A look inside the Princely Collections

For more than 400 years, the Princes of Liechtenstein have been passionate art collectors. The Princely Collections include key works of European art stretching over five centuries and are now among the world's major private art collections. The notion of promoting fine arts for the general good enjoyed its greatest popularity during the Baroque period. The House of Liechtenstein has pursued this ideal consistently down the generations. We make deliberate use of the works of art in the Princely Collections to accompany what we do. For us, they embody those values that form the basis for a successful partnership with our clients: a long-term focus, skill and reliability.

Your sustainable model portfolio

Prioritising the future should not mean compromising your returns

We offer a fully diversified sustainable portfolio service, designed to meet your investment objectives and your risk profile.

We aim to generate strong and consistent investment returns, whilst supporting our sustainable philosophy. We look to achieve this by investing in themes such as renewable energy, financial inclusion, education, social housing, climate change action, sustainable waste management and renewable material production.

Your portfolio is aligned to the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (UN SDGs) through our sustainable thematic framework.

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS

LGT Sustainable Strategy

LGT's unique ownership structure is linked to a long-term and holistic approach to doing business. In 2018, LGT introduced the Sustainability Strategy, which sets out our company's binding goals to be reached by 2025.

LGT's 2025 global environmental goals

Net-zero

LGT has ambitions to achieve net-zero by 2030. In order to achieve this, we have agreed a 10-year CO₂ removal deal with Climeworks. This is one of the largest-ever direct air capture agreements and truly demonstrates LGT's commitment to the climate. Climeworks' technology is the only solution available today that can reduce CO₂ in the atmosphere in a scalable manner, and then permanently store it underground.

Implementing a positive approach

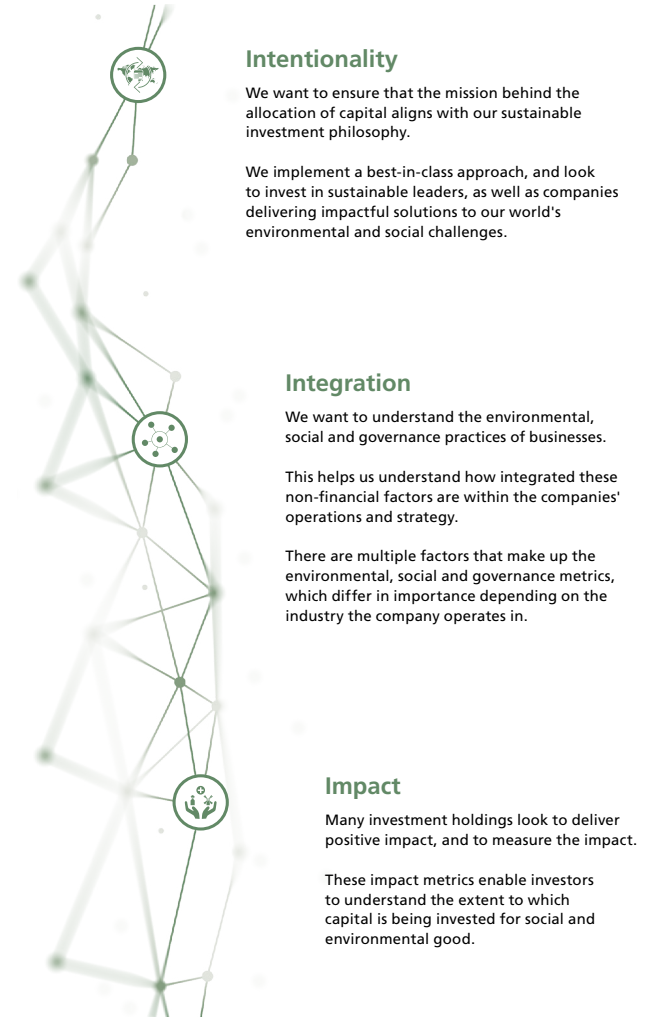

Allocating capital to companies demonstrating a commitment to sustainability

The financial industry has an important responsibility in the global transition towards a more sustainable future for society and the environment. Similarly investors play a crucial role through the allocation of capital to businesses that are prioritising sustainability.

The funds selected for your portfolio have sustainability at the core of their investment thesis. These funds are invested in companies that are operationally sustainable, or those which actively produce goods or services which contribute to solving a major global challenge.

In order to identify these companies and investment opportunities, we have designed a robust and holistic framework for sustainable analysis from three key perspectives: intentionality, integration and impact.

Our sustainable approach

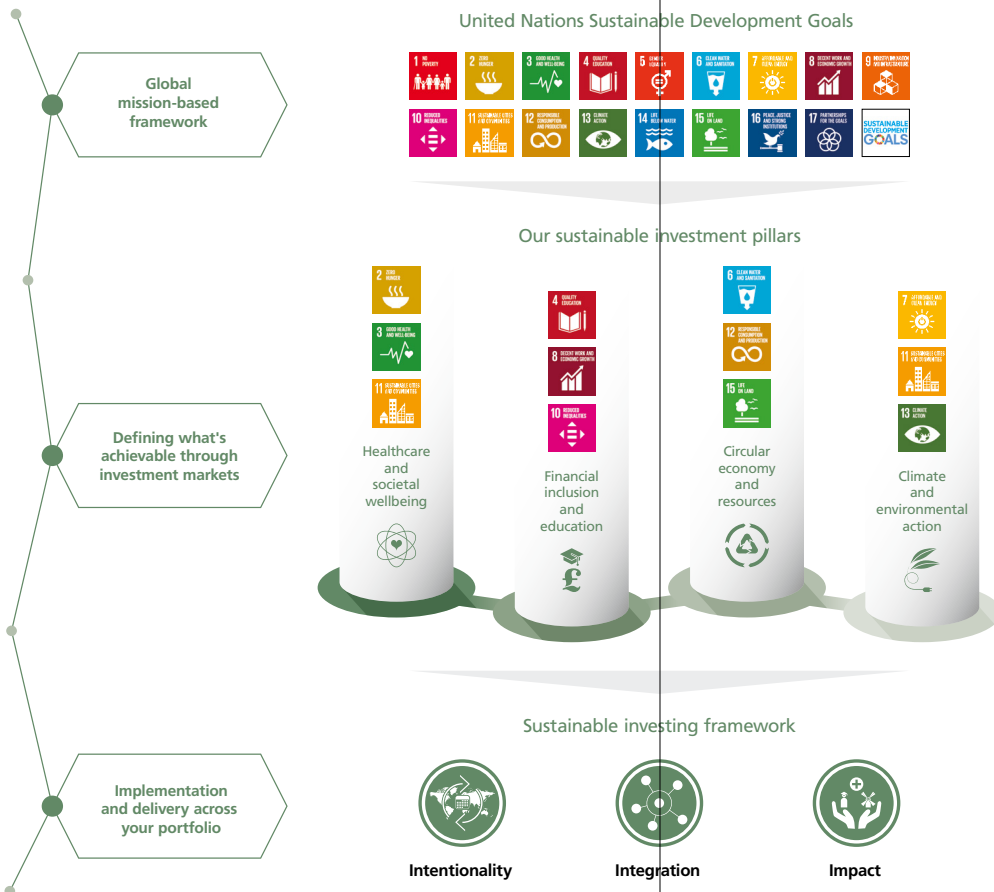

A framework for change

Aligning your investment to solving global challenges

As part of the Sustainable MPS, we have developed four sustainable investment pillars. Each pillar allows for a deeper understanding of the range of opportunities that exist in sustainable investing. This permits the translation of a framework based on a global, wide-reaching social and environmental change into an investable universe of ideas.

Investment process overview

Returns as strong as our beliefs

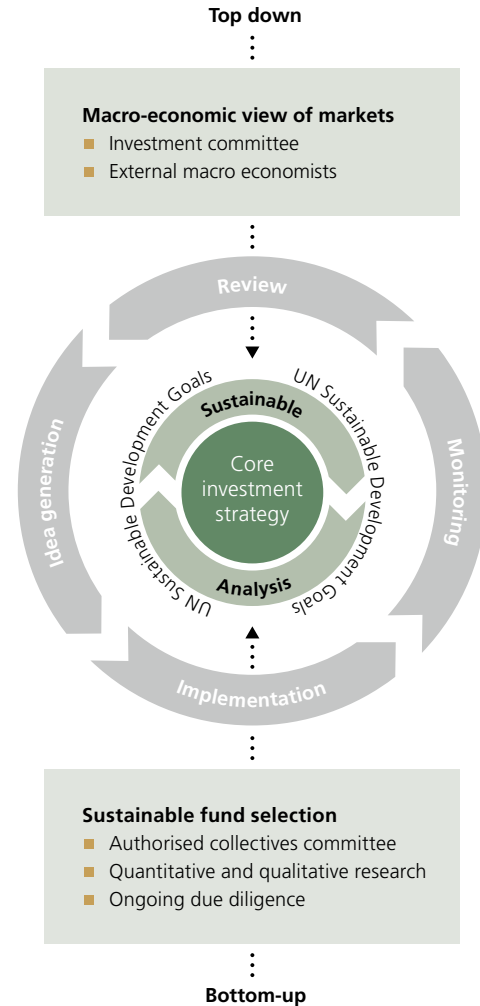

The asset allocation of your portfolio is aligned to our house view. We believe that there is one set of good ideas and work hard to integrate these directly into the sustainable portfolios. To achieve the most from your portfolio in terms of performance and positive impact, your portfolio is managed on an ongoing dynamic basis.

Your portfolio benefits from a team who are experienced in running portfolios and whose expertise encourages a high level of investment and risk analysis. On a monthly basis, our house view evolves based on the research and analysis of our Research Team and Central Investment Committee. These changes in macroeconomic views and landscapes are reflected in your portfolio's asset allocation after careful analysis and screening from the dedicated Sustainable Investment Committee.

The sustainable investment process includes a series of sustainability screens. The screening endeavours to restrict exposure to investment in the following areas:

- Controversial weapons
- Alcohol
- Tobacco
- Thermal coal
- Oil majors

Portfolio construction

To trust is to know

Regardless of your attitude to risk, your portfolio is constructed using a range of funds using a whole of market approach. We select each individual sustainable fund, which is used to access a specific geography, asset class, sector or investment theme.

Aligned to objectives

The funds selected for your portfolio are consistent with your objective and associated risk profile. If you are a risk averse investor targeting a lower level of investment growth, your portfolio will typically contain a higher percentage of fixed income and alternative funds. The opposite is true for an investor with a greater capacity for risk, or those targeting higher levels of capital growth. For these clients, the portfolio will contain a higher percentage of equity funds.

A diversified sustainable portfolio

Investing in funds ensures that your portfolio is diversified, meaning you are not exposed to any individual market risks. We invest using a conviction-led view, so your portfolio is made up of around 20 funds. We take meaningful positions which ensures that your portfolio would not suffer from being overly diversified. Being overly diversified can dilute the impact of successful investing, resulting in lower performance.

Investment universe exposure

Your sustainable portfolio contains a diversified selection of funds. These funds are selected to access a specific asset class, geography and sector. Below is an example of the investment universe your portfolio can have exposure to.
